SPEAKERS + PRESENTERS

Kyle Bauer
KFRM Radio

Kyle has lived and worked in and around Clay Center all of his life. He and two other investors bought KFRM in 1996 and rebuilt it as one of the leading agricultural stations in the country. Serving as the general manager for KCLY and KFRM radio as well as program director and sales manager for KFRM, Kyle finds it easy to keep abreast of the organization. Kyle graduated from Kansas State University in 1980 with a bachelor's degree in Agricultural Economics.

Keynote Speech: "You Can't Hear Me if You Can't See Me" Many people believe that what they say is how you communicate, but we mostly communicate with other means.

Workshop 1, "Conflict: A Shipwreck or Treasure Quest": Focusing on adult-youth relationships and how to work collaboratively. Team building and keeping positive attitudes when working in a volunteer setting.

Robyn Deines
K-State Research +
Ext., Walnut Creek
District

Project Meeting 101 (Workshop 2 Session): Are you a beginning or new project leader who is trying to figure out how to conduct a project meeting? Or a veteran project leader who is looking for new and refreshing ideas for your project meetings? This session will get you off on the right foot!

Diane Mack
K-State Research +
Ext., 4-H Youth
Develop. Specialist

Diane Mack is passionate about positive youth development. She worked in Ford and Ellis counties before becoming an Extension Specialist. Diane enjoys sharing ways to engage youth in creative learning environments.

Working with X, Y and Z (Workshop 2 Session): There are currently five generations working together in youth-oriented organizations. Some serve as staff, volunteers or the youth themselves. Join us in this session as we learn how to work together building on each other's strengths.

Navigating Resources (Workshop 3 Session): There are lots of resources available, how do you choose what to use? In this session we'll explore resources based on programmatic objectives. Participants will be able review different types of curriculum that is available.

Susan Schlicting
K-State Research +
Ext., Cottonwood
District

Managing Risk (Workshop 3 Session): No matter the youth organization you are working with, there will always be some degree of risk involved. Find out the best practices for limiting and managing risk during your volunteer time.
