

Winter Forage Conference GOING VIRTUAL! December 10 in Great Bend

The annual Winter Forage Conference hosted by the Kansas Forage and Grassland Council and Kansas State University has been switched to a totally virtual event and will not take place in Great Bend.

The event will still take occur on Thursday, December 10, 2020, beginning at 9:00 am CST. The program will continue to feature agricultural specialists addressing several forage topics including, pasture management and weed control, current hay prices and statistics, along with alfalfa management, insect control and a research update.

Featured speakers include Kim Nettleton, Kansas Department of Agriculture, market news; Don Miller, Alforex Seeds; Romulo Lollato, KSU wheat and forages extension specialist; Keith Harmony, KSU range scientist; and Walk Fick, KSU range management specialist.

The event is free for current KSFGC members whose memberships extend into 2021, and $25 for non-members, payable online.

Register online at <http://bit.ly/KSFGCam>.

Feel free to direct questions to Mark Nelson, at info@ksfgc.org, or by calling (785) 587-6103, or Alicia Boor at aboor@ksu.edu, or by calling 620-793-1910.

Alicia Boor is an Agriculture and Natural Resources agent in the Cottonwood District (which includes Barton and Ellis counties) for K-State Research and Extension. You can contact her by e-mail at aboor@ksu.edu or calling 620-793-1910